

Stas Venglevski & Misha Litvin

in concert on
Bayan (Russian Accordion)
Domra & Mandolin

Friday, March 13, 2009
8:15 pm

Masonic Temple
410 University Blvd. West
Silver Spring, MD 20901

Admission -- $15
Refreshments will be served

Stas Vanglevski and Misha Litvin are both musically stunning and have a wonderful stage presence and incredible rapport with the audience. Their music ranges from classical, to folk, to traditional. Stas plays the bayan, a Russian version of the accordion. He has toured extensively as a soloist throughout the former Soviet Union, Canada, Europe, and the United States including numerous performances with Doc Severinsen, Steve Allen, and with Garrison Keillor on the Prairie Home Companion Show. Additionally, Stas has performed with symphony orchestras throughout the United States. Stas has recorded two CDs with Misha, as well as 8 other CDs. He has also published 6 books of his own compositions for solo and duet accordion. Misha is a master mandolinist and a master of the domra (a Russian mandolin). He has soloed with chamber orchestras in Russia, Italy, Germany, The Netherlands, France, and the U.S. Misha is a professor of mandolin at the Wisconsin Conservatory of Music. He is originally from Minsk, Belarus and holds a masters degree in orchestra conducting and music education.

Directions from Baltimore & points north:

Go south on I-95, take the I-495 W exit 27 toward Silver Spring. Go approx. 3.5 mi. to exit 29A, MD 193 W (University Blvd.) toward Wheaton. Go a little over 1 mi. to traffic light at Dennis Ave., make U-turn and go 0.1 mi. to the Masonic Temple. Entrance is at the rear of the building.

Directions from Bethesda & Virginia:

Follow I-495 E to exit 31A, MD 97 N (Georgia Ave.) toward Wheaton. Go approx. 0.8 mi. to Dennis Ave., turn right and go approx. 1.5 mi. to University Blvd., turn right and go 0.1 mi. to the Masonic Temple. Entrance is at the rear of the building.

Directions from Washington, DC:

Follow Bethesda/Virginia directions from Georgia Ave.

For tickets & additional information contact
Joan at 301-806-5998 or joangrauman@comcast.net

